Common Misconceptions	Pupils will develop ideas using a range of materials and techniques which can then be developed in Photoshop Common misconception is that all work in Graphics is created on a computer with no writing; development of ideas need to be explored with print, drawing and photography to then manipulate further. Students also need to explain and annotate their work.
Development of Key Generic Skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Literacy (Writing, Oracy, Reading including opportunities to develop wider reading) • Numeracy • Computational Thinking (problem solving) 	Key words – Aesthetic, Graphic Design, Design Brief Developing ideas and concepts – understanding and using Tier 2 and Tier 3 keywords including use of oracy to explain ideas and link to the work Research, Mood boards, Designers’ work, Experimenting with media and printing, presentation of ideas. Creative thinking to find design solutions, Design sheets and making final piece.
